

WHAT NOT TO SAY TO YOUR INSURANCE COMPANY AFTER AN ACCIDENT

After a car accident, you'll be contacted by insurance adjusters from both your insurance company and the insurance company of any other drivers involved. It's imperative that you do not speak with the adjuster from the other drivers' insurance companies, but you may be contractually obligated to speak with the adjuster from your own. Remember: If you hire a lawyer before speaking with your insurance company, you can tell the insurance company to call your attorney to arrange any discussion about the accident.

If you must speak with the adjuster from your own insurance company, avoid:

1 ADMITTING FAULT

Leave it to the professionals to determine who's at fault.

2 GUESSING

If you don't know something, say you don't know. Don't try to guess.

3 GOING INTO DETAIL ABOUT YOUR INJURY

Don't speak about your injuries until you've seen a doctor and spoken to a lawyer.

4 ALSO, DO NOT:

- Allow them to record the phone call (Your policy may require you to allow them to record your conversation, check with your lawyer)
- Discuss anything but the basic facts about the accident
- Provide any details about your job, such as income, schedule, or the duties it entails
- Answer questions about your family
